UNESCO Prize for Girls' and Women's Education

Call for nominations 2018

Deadline: 11 May 2018

The UNESCO Prize for Girls' and Women's Education honours outstanding and innovative practices advancing girls' and women's education, and in turn, improving the quality of their lives. Established in 2015, it is funded by the Government of the People's Republic of China and consists of two US $50,000 awards to help further the work of laureates in this field. The Prize directly contributes to Sustainable Development Goals 4 and 5.

Who can nominate?

Governments of UNESCO Member States via their National Commissions and Permanent Delegations to UNESCO, and Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) in official partnership with UNESCO can make up to 3 nominations.

Self-nominations are not accepted.

Who can be nominated?

Individuals, institutions or organizations having made an outstanding contribution to the advancement of girls' and women's education. Nominations must focus on an established and ongoing project or programme of the nominee, which has been running for at least two years. Visit the website of the Prize for more details on eligibility and selection criteria. Interested? Contact your National Commission for UNESCO.

How to nominate?

Nominations should be submitted online in English or French before 11 May 2018 (midnight, Paris time).
